In 1992, the American Nurses Association (ANA) recognized nursing informatics (NI) as a nursing specialty. The original ANA scope and standards of nursing informatics practice published in 2001 was revised in 2008 and defines NI as the Massachusetts nursing core competencies - 1 introduction as articulated in the publication, Creativity and Connections: Building the Framework for the Future of Nursing Education and Practice, published by the Massachusetts Department of Higher Education Nursing Initiative in August 2010:

clinical reasoning: action-focused thinking - transforming professional nursing education. The American Association of Colleges of Nurses (AACN) supports these core competencies as delineated in the Essentials for Baccalaureate Education for Professional Nursing Practice, which highlights such areas as patient-centered care, interprofessional teams, evidence-based practice, quality
